INTRODUCTION

The "Handbook of Social Resources of California" has been compiled to meet an urgent need and as the best means of answering the many inquiries which come to the Pacific Division regarding the health, nursing, social, educational, recreational, and civic and community betterment resources of the State. It has been prepared for the use of Red Cross Chapter workers and others who need this kind of information.

The "Handbook of Information and Instructions for Home Service Sections" (A.R.C. 207) served as the chief channel through which Chapters were informed regarding war-time legislation and activities for service men and those dependent on them and was a means of aiding the workers to give correct advice and information. This Handbook is kept up-to-date by Post War Services, American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

The Social Resources Information Service at the American Red Cross National Headquarters office has issued the peace-time "Handbook of Social Resources of the U.S." for distribution to the Chapters, and for sale outside at the nominal cost of $1 a copy, postpaid. As its name implies, this book includes material in regard to educational, health, and social service organizations and agencies which are national in scope. Copies may be consulted at the local Red Cross Chapter offices or secured direct from National Headquarters, checks being made payable to "American National Red Cross".

The Chapters for some time past, however, have found it necessary in order to serve their communities to the fullest extent, to secure facts about the various State peace-time resources; but there has been no place in the State where all such data have been procurable. For these reasons the Pacific Division Information Service has prepared the "Handbook of Social Resources of California". No attempt has been made to include organizations or institutions which are purely local in scope inasmuch as readers will already be acquainted with such resources.

In this Handbook have been included several State departments, boards, and commissions and the State and private social institutions and private organizations which serve the entire State or more than one county; also the State or regional work of those national organizations which have a peculiar State program, a State or regional office, or important branches in the State.

Agencies for the benefit of service or ex-service men and women and their families have been included if these agencies have a peace-time program and therefore function for the general public. In view of the fact that the war-service Handbook is still available, the State Handbook does not describe agencies whose sole purpose is to render aid to service and ex-service men and women and their dependents. It is, likewise, not attempted to include the great number of fraternal, mutual benefit, pension fund and related associations which do not render service outside their membership. Members are familiar with their activities and do not need to be informed about them. Some agencies also are omitted from the Handbook because the service they render is of a technical character and offered to technical experts in their fields who will already be familiar with it.

The Handbook is a guide to and not an endorsement of the agencies represented and does not attempt to indicate their value or standing. Omission does not imply disapproval. The State Board of Charities and Corrections (q. v.) lists agencies inspected and approved, and will answer inquiries regarding institutions and organizations in the State. Should a Chapter or an individual desire information concerning the standing of a national or interstate agency engaged in social, civic, or philanthropic activity and soliciting funds from the public, inquiry should be made of the National Information Bureau, 1 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

The space given to the description of an agency does not necessarily bear any relation to the importance of its work. The complexity of organization or the amount of data which was submitted or which was otherwise available is usually responsible for the length of the description.

Criticisms and suggestions together with important additional information will be gladly received by the Pacific Division. .

The statements published in the Handbook have been compiled with the cooperation of the agencies concerned and officially approved by them. It must be borne in mind, of course, that new resources are constantly coming into being and existing ones are changing their methods or the character of their work.

We wish to acknowledge our indebtedness to the institutions, organizations, and departments which have assisted in the preparation of the book.

The work of compiling material for this Handbook fell to Miss Elizabeth McMechen of the Pacific Division. The material has been edited and indexing has been done by Miss Genevieve P. Hendricks at National Headquarters, who also superintended the publication of the Handbook.

George Filmer,
Division Manager.

HOW TO USE THE HANDBOOK OF
SOCIAL RESOURCES

If the exact name of an agency is known, the description can be found in its alphabetical place in the body of the text.

If the character of the work of an agency is known but not its exact title, it can be found by consulting the Subject Index at the beginning of the book.

If the address of the headquarters of an agency is known but not its exact title nor the character of its work, it can be found under the town or city in which it is located in the Index by Locality.

SUBJECT INDEX

In this Index the agencies are classified under headings describing their purposes or the nature of the whole or part of their work. When looking up an agency of which the name is known, it is not necessary to use the Index. The agency can be found as in an encyclopedia by following the alphabetical sequence in the body of the text. If the exact title of the agency is not known, see page IV. for directions for finding it.

INDEX BY LOCALITY

In this Index agencies are classified according to the addresses of their officers or corresponding officer. Many of the agencies are given under several different addresses which means that they have branch offices or local representatives. Even though the local or branch office does not bear the same name as the State or national agency, nevertheless only the name of the State or national agency is given. A number of agencies are listed in this Index under the names of cities or towns in which they are located although they are not described within the pages of the text; they are, however, included in lists which appear in the text.

State or District offices are given in this Index without indication that they are State or District offices. Also no mark appears before names of agencies having only one office, this office of course being considered the State office. To indicate that the office located in a certain town or city is a branch office or that a local representative is to be found there or to indicate that the agency named is included in a list which appears in the text, the following signs have been used:

- # Branch Offices
- ' Local Representatives
- * Included in list of Hospitals and Dispensaries for the Free Treatment of Venereal Diseases
- ** Included in list of Tuberculosis Sanatoria
- *** Included in list of Family Social Work Agencies in California as listed in the 1921 Directory of Family Social Work Societies, published by the American Association for Organizing Family Social Work, 130 East 22d St., New York, N. Y.

If the exact name of an agency is known, it may not be necessary to use this Index. The agency can be found in its alphabetical place in the text. If neither the exact name of the organization nor its headquarters address is known, see page IV. for finding it.

ALPHABETICAL LIST

Following is the encyclopedic directory of agencies.

For convenience, the digests in this book, in general, follow a definite order.

The headquarters address has been given for agencies maintaining a State or national office in California. Because of the shortness of time in which such information becomes out of date, the names of officers and their individual addresses have been included only in statements concerning those agencies which do not maintain a central office and which could not be located otherwise.

Endeavor has been made to give for each agency the purpose; program or work; requirements for service, admission, or membership; amount of dues, if any; method of support. For institutions, the Handbook includes, wherever possible, a description of buildings and location together with the kind of training provided for inmates and the legal and institutional regulations governing admission, discharge, and in some cases parole. For organization, it attempts to give information regarding specific activities such as the holding of fairs, exhibits, public meetings, and lectures; the providing of speakers, and requirements governing use of these.

Distinct departments and divisions which are conducting work of social service or health interest will usually be found described in paragraphs following the statement covering the general work of the agency. Addresses are given only for those units which are not located at the headquarters offices.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA. See University of California.

ALBERTINUM SCHOOL FOR BOYS, Ukiah, Mendocino Co. Accepts for care dependent boys between 3 and 14 years of age irrespective of color, religion, or nationality, upon juvenile court commitment or application of interested individual or agency. Admission does not mean consent to future adoption. Home requires an entrance physical examination; does not accept children who are mentally defective or who have infectious or contagious diseases. Through cooperation with the Mendocino State Hospital Out-Patient Clinic for Mental Disorders and the County Hospital Staff for Mental Disorders, and the County Hospital Staff, the School provides for mental and physical well-being of children. Has isolation ward in separate building and physician on call. The Sisters conduct regular grade school on premises. Children who show aptitude and wish to attend high school are placed where they can do so. Boys help in the work of the Home. They receive manual training. Conducted by Roman Catholic Dominican Sisters.

ALLIANCE FRANÇAISE, 110 Sutter St., San Francisco. For the propagation of the French language and literature in America. Establishes classes for adults and for children in the public schools. Supported by membership dues. A member of the Fédération de l'Alliance Française.

ALTENHEIM HOME, 1720 Hopkins Ave., East Oakland. Located on a 7-acre city tract and housed in three dormitory buildings. Receives men and women over 65 years of age who are of German birth or descent and who speak the German language. Men and their wives live together. Required entrance examination given in Home. Physician and trained nurse regularly employed. Hospital maintained on the premises. Inmates provide own clothing. Occasional musical and dramatic entertainments given. Inmates work in garden if they wish. Entrance fee $2,500 or according to ability. Supported by gifts, fees and legacies. Capacity 200.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR ORGANIZING FAMILY SOCIAL WORK, 130 East 22d St., New York, N. Y. See "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters. Operates in California through the Berkeley Charity Organization Society (q.v.).

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN, California Division, (formerly Association of Collegiate Alumnae), Pres., Mrs. E. B. Stanwood, 995 Market St., San Francisco. To improve educational standards through legislation and otherwise; to secure broader opportunities for women; to establish local, State or national scholarships; to promote fellowship among college women. Holds an annual conference open to the public. Has standing committees among which are those on Education, Educational Legislation, Educational Opportunities and Registration for Trained Women. Members of branches of the State Division pay 10 cents per capita. Members at large pay $3 a year. Is a division of the American Association of University Women, for description of which see under its former title, Association of Collegiate Alumnae, in the "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

AMERICAN BAPTIST HOME MISSION SOCIETY, Headquarters for Northern California, 785 Market St., San Francisco; Southern California, 313 West Third St., Los Angeles. Establishes and maintains missions. Conducts educational work. Missionaries extend work in rural communities, cities, industrial centers and among foreign-speaking groups. Society also conducts welfare work for immigrants. Promotes community service through rural churches. Is a branch of the national organization of the same name, for description of which see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

AMERICAN CITY BUREAU, Headquarters for Western Division, Merchants' Exchange Bldg., San Francisco. Assists local communities to organize Chambers of Commerce. Maintains a staff of field workers who visit communities for the purpose of planning and conducting a campaign for membership and formulating a program for the Chamber of Commerce. Has a follow-up system for three years during which field workers revisit communities which they have organized and conduct follow-up campaign. Through research departments of national and division offices supplies to Chambers of Commerce any desired information. Conducts School of Community Leadership, the intent of which is to assist presidents and secretaries of civic and commercial organizations to become better fitted for community leadership. Publishes a monthly magazine, Progressive Western Cities, and special bulletins, all of which are furnished free to Chambers of Commerce organized by the Bureau. Supported by fees paid for organization service.

AMERICAN LEGION, State Headquarters, City Hall, San Francisco. A patriotic society to promote the welfare of ex-service men. For a description of the national work of this organization see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

AMERICAN RED CROSS, Civic Auditorium, Grove and Larkin Sts., San Francisco. The Pacific Division Office at this address has jurisdiction over California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Washington, Oregon and Idaho. It directs the work of Chapters established throughout California, as described below. The Division Office is the medium of communication between the Chapters in its territory and National Headquarters (for description of which see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters).

Division Executives are: the Manager, who is the executive head; the Assistant Manager or Treasurer, who is also Division Paymaster and acts for the Manager in his absence; the Accountant, who has responsibility for collections, disbursements, and the banking of funds, who is in charge of the accounting for the Red Cross Division and who has supervision over all special funds and Chapter accounts; the Executive Secretary, who is responsible for operative services, correspondence, and files; and the Directors of Services, who compose the Staff Council.

Staff Council functions as an advisory board to the Manager. Its members are responsible for the study of problems, the collection of information and data in their special fields of activity, and the formulation of plans and procedure for work done by the Chapters. The final responsibility for Division and Chapter policies, however, is placed with the Division Manager, who works under authority from National Headquarters with which he is in constant communication.

Services, undertaken by Chapters with the supervisory aid of National and Divisional Offices by means of correspondence and through visits of Field Representatives, are as follows:

Disaster Relief Service undertakes two distinct activities: preparedness in advance of disaster, and the administration of relief after a disaster has occurred. It studies the best methods of preparedness for disaster, applicable to Chapters, Division Offices, and National Headquarters; prepares instructions on disaster methods for Chapters and disaster relief committees; maintains a mobile disaster relief unit of experienced personnel; maintains a reserve personnel which can be called in time of disaster; studies methods by which prompt reporting of disasters can be obtained to avoid loss of time in commencing relief; maintains relations with Government departments and national organizations able to assist in disaster relief. Upon the occurrence of a disaster in a community, it is expected that the Red Cross Chapter will undertake whatever forms of emergency relief may be needed, such as providing food, shelter, clothing or first aid, and transporting the injured to hospitals, and refugees to places of safety. If the resources of the Chapter are sufficient, it does this work alone, and may also extend its activities to family rehabilitation. The counsel and advice of the Division Office and National Headquarters are always available in such cases. If the emergency is too great for the resources of the Chapter, it will cooperate with public officials and civic agencies in the selection of a central disaster relief committee which begins emergency measures, and the Chapter will call upon the Division Office for aid. The Division Office then assumes the responsibility for the Red Cross, sends representatives to the scene of disaster, and, if conditions require it, requests National Headquarters to issue a nation-wide appeal for funds through all its Divisions and Chapters, thereby furnishing a prompt and efficient machinery for the collection of relief funds to be applied to the stricken community through the Division Office concerned and the central disaster relief committee organized at the scene of disaster. The accounting of these funds is done by Division accountants and the final auditing by the U. S. War Department. The Red Cross is always available through its Division Managers to advise and assist in any disaster relief activity and when the circumstances make it appear necessary, or when invited to do so, assumes charge of the relief organization. Local Chapters are expected to report to the Red Cross Division Headquarters upon the occurrence of a disaster, indicating whether the community will be able to meet with the requirements of the situation or whether the national organization should send aid from the outside. This Service has prepared a "Disaster Relief Guide Book" for the use of disaster relief executives, and the "Manual of Disaster Relief" (ARC 209), available to Red Cross Chapters and to other agencies interested in disaster relief work, upon request.

First Aid. This service organizes classes and gives instruction in administering first aid treatment to the injured to meet emergencies until a physician can be secured. It also seeks to develop a volunteer life-saving corps of trained individuals capable of rendering water first aid.

Health Service. The Red Cross is interested in all phases of public health, and may promote in any community various health projects, in cooperation with other local health agencies. This work is being done in part through the promotion of the Health Center which serves as a clearing house for statistical information and health literature, establishes clinics, develops exhibits, plays, clubs, demonstrations, and other activities for the purpose of furthering individual and community health.

Home Service. Red Cross Chapters continue to carry on the work begun during the War for service and ex-service men and their families, the only difference being that especial emphasis is now laid on the work for the disabled ex-service men and their families. This work includes giving material relief when necessary, extending aid in making claims for Government allowance, supplying information, and so on. In addition, Home Service workers have been receiving calls from the civilian population for extension of such work to the handicapped of the community at large. Some Chapters with the approval of the Division Office have undertaken this general social service work for the community as a whole. It is the policy of the Red Cross to develop this work in a field where there is not already operating an agency equipped to do the work.

Information Service. Some Chapters collect for their own information data as to the social and health resources of their community. Certain information on State-wide and some regional resources is gathered for Red Cross workers by the Division Office. Material on nation-wide social and health agencies is gathered by National Headquarters and made available through the "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters. This Handbook may be procured by the outside public from National Headquarters at $1 a copy, postpaid. The "Handbook of Information and Instructions for Home Service Workers", also issued by National Headquarters, revised September, 1921, gives information to assist Red Cross workers in their activities for ex-service men and their families.

Instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick promotes courses to prepare women and girls to care for the sick in their own homes. These courses are given by an enrolled American Red Cross nurse who has been appointed an instructor. They are not intended to equip those under instruction to assume the responsibility of a graduate nurse, but rather to teach them to use preventive measures and to give intelligent care to the sick when a trained nurse is not necessary or available, and to promote hygienic conditions in the home. There is one Standard Red Cross Course, with a modification called the Modified Course, and an adaptation called the Adapted Course, a certificate being issued on the successful completion of any one. For details regarding these courses address the Pacific Division.

Junior Red Cross, organized in public, private, and parochial schools, affords a means by which school children may share in the program of the Red Cross and receive training in habits and ideals of service. Under the supervision of the Chapter School Committee, which is constituted of local school authorities and others interested in education and child welfare, the Junior Red Cross is the chapter's organization to secure the participation of the school children in its varied activities. The Junior program supplements the citizenship training afforded by the schools, and hence includes some activities in which the Chapter is not otherwise actively engaged. Junior activities embody two aims: the actual service performed, and the educational values of the activities, especially from a social and civic point of view. These aims are accomplished through the making of garments, simple school or playground equipment, toys, and scrapbooks; the "Saving and Giving" program which teaches thrift; participation in a wide variety of community service projects such as entertainments, accident prevention, fire prevention, and community beautification campaigns. The Junior Red Cross News, a monthly magazine, is the national organ of the Juniors and makes available material which vitalizes schoolroom work and cultivates Red Cross ideals. Junior Service gives the children a world perspective by making their work in foreign lands as definite a task as their efforts to serve children at home. Educational and welfare projects are being carried on in a dozen European countries. Out of these contacts with overseas children has grown a well-organized plan of international correspondence designed to acquaint the children with each other and with their respective countries.

Military Relief serves both the Army and Navy through activities at camps, hospitals, posts, and stations. It furnishes entertainments and recreation for convalescent patients through the Red Cross convalescent houses at Army and Navy hospitals; it distributes supplies for the comfort and welfare of the patient; gives all such individual service as the commanding officer thinks advisable. It also furnishes supplemental emergency supplies when required and necessary in any emergency and when lack of time or facilities of the War and Navy Departments make such a request necessary.

Nursing Service through local committees on Red Cross Nursing Service enrolls graduate nurses meeting Red Cross requirements. (See ARC 710) Papers are sent through the Division Office to National Headquarters. Primary purpose is to serve as a reserve of the Army and Navy Nurse Corps. Supplies nurses for all Red Cross nursing activities at home and overseas, for the U. S. Public Health Service, to the Red Cross Public Health Nursing Service, for Instructors in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, for Disaster Relief, and for other Services in connection with nursing. This might apply to the recruiting of student nurses. The Division Office maintains an enrollment of Home Defense Nurses ineligible for national service, but who may be available for local purposes, serving as instructors in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, or meeting local emergencies. (See ARC 703)

Post War Services (See ARC 207) is responsible for carrying to a final conclusion the work described under Home Service so far as it relates to ex-service men. In addition to the information and relief aspect of its work, it conducts medical social service for the ex-service men receiving treatment in Government hospitals. The Red Cross maintains workers who provide recreation and entertainment; communicate with the men's families through the Chapters; and distribute supplies for the men's comfort. In State hospitals and the California branch of the National Home for Disabled Soldiers (q.v.) and in Government contract hospitals used for the care of ex-service men, such service is rendered by Chapter and Division workers.

Public Health Nursing Service encourages and furthers the training of Public Health Nurses through scholarship and loan funds, and is concerned with the promotion and administration of Public Health Nursing services through the instrumentality of the Red Cross Chapters, in close cooperation with State boards of health and other agencies. It sets and maintains standards of Public Health Nursing that require definite postgraduate training or preparation in addition to the regular hospital course; it also gives continued supervision to the Public Health Nurse when she is at work in the community.

Public Information Service is the channel for distribution of information concerning Red Cross activities and projects. Among the activities of this Service are the circulation of exhibits, the distribution of educational moving-picture films, and the furnishing of speakers and lectures on Red Cross subjects.

Volunteer Service recruits volunteer workers to assist in all Red Cross activities. In addition to the administrative work, which is managed in most Chapters by volunteer personnel, volunteers make clothing for European relief, reconstruct garments in connection with Salvage and Shop work, visit ex-service men in hospitals, assist the Public Health Nurse and the Home Service worker in their community service, and do motor corps, canteen and other relief work in times of disaster. Motor Corps and Canteen Groups are active also in numerous places in connection with the work of the Public Health Nurse, Home Service Worker and Hospital Social Service Worker.

Salvage and Shop work is conducted through the Red Cross Shop and the Salvage warehouse. The Red Cross Shop is founded on the principle that in every home there are articles of little or no value to the owner, but which might be of use to others if put within their reach. Chapters reconstruct and place on sale clothing so obtained. Furniture is also remodelled and put to use. The object of the Salvage and Shop work is social, not primarily to make money for the Chapters; the proceeds go to the support of any welfare project the Chapters may be undertaking in Home Service, Public Health Nursing, or Health Centers. The work of reconstructing the material and operating the shops is carried on almost entirely by volunteers.

ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGIATE ALUMNAE. See American Association of University Women.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION OF AMERICA, Headquarters for Northern California, 735 Market St., San Francisco; Southern California, 313 West Third St., Los Angeles. To extend church and community work by the young people. Local chapters assist in church activities, conduct entertainments, make layettes for needy mothers, and assist local charities in their work. For description of the national organization of the same name see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

BERKELEY CHARITY ORGANIZATION SOCIETY (licensed by State Board of Charities and Corrections (q.v.)), 2120 Grove St., Berkeley. As part of its relief work places dependent children of all ages and nationalities committed to it by the juvenile court, either boarding them out, placing them in free homes, or taking steps to secure their adoption. Berkeley Dispensary and Alameda County Public Health Center and Baby Hospital cooperate in providing medical and surgical care. Society employs a trained social worker to give follow-up supervision. Gathers information and makes investigations of needy persons and of available resources for their relief in response to inquiries from other social agencies in the U. S. or foreign countries. Is a member of the American Association for Organizing Family Social Work, for description of which see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

BEJULAH HOME. See Salvation Army.

BLUE CROSS SOCIETY OF MEXICO. See Cruz Azul Mexicana.

BOARD OF FORESTRY. See California State Board of Forestry.

BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS. See State System of Health Officials.

BOTHIN FOUNDATION. See Hill Farm and Stone House.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA, Field Scout Executive for District 12 (Calif., Nev., Ariz., and Utah), 315 Hass Bldg., Los Angeles. Local organization of Scouts consists of troupes of not more than 32 boys, divided into patrols made up of eight boys each, under a patrol leader. Troops are under the direction of a Scout Master who works as a volunteer and who must be a citizen of the U. S. and of approved character and proven interest in boys. The local troop is sponsored by a local council, which applies for the Troop's charter, appoints committees, and becomes responsible for its success. Boys receive training in Scout-craft, patriotism, courage, and self-reliance, and are required to do at least one good deed daily. Instruction is given in first aid, life-saving, chivalry, nature study, camp craft, wood craft and other handicrafts. Troops cooperate with boards of health, fire departments, police departments, and public schools in their communities; conduct campaigns for the elimination of flies and other public nuisances; perform numerous other community and personal services. About 2,000 men serve as leaders and directors of the troops of District 12, with less than 40 paid employees. For plans for organizing local councils apply to Field Department, District 12, above address. For description of the national organization see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

BOY'S AID SOCIETY, 460 Baker St., San Francisco. Upon juvenile court commitment or upon written recommendation of a probation officer receives wayward boys of any race or creed from 10 to 16 years of age. Does not admit boys who are mentally deficient or who have contagious diseases. Requires medical entrance examination. Accepts certificate of physician not connected with Society. Provides medical care. Maintains isolation ward. Teeth of all wards are examined twice a year by University of California Dental College. Eyes are examined by Stanford Clinic. General examinations are made at intervals by attending physician. Conducts six grades of public school and gives special vocational training. Provides supervised recreation. Maintains a three-months' camp near Sebastopol where boys work for pay, picking berries and prunes on farms in the vicinity. Parents pay if able. Capacity 150. Under non-sectarian management.

Charles R. Bishop Annex offers a home for working boys who are homeless. Conducts a special night school on the premises for boys who work outside.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' AID SOCIETY OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY, 815 Mission St., South Pasadena. A non-sectarian Home located on a 2 1/2 acre site with playground and garden. Admits orphan, half-orphan, abandoned, or otherwise dependent boys and girls between the ages of 14 months and 15 years, without restriction as to color, religion, or nationality. Employs a nurse and operates an infirmary which is equipped with a dental outfit. Makes provision for isolating children suffering from contagious diseases. Keeps records of findings of physical examinations made at public schools and at the Home. Volunteer workers conduct sewing and domestic science classes and supervise basketball, swimming, and other sports. All children have three weeks at the beach in summer. Capacity 125.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' AID SOCIETY OF SAN DIEGO (formerly the Maud B. Booth Home) 4285 Third St., San Diego. Housed in three buildings and located on a 5-acre tract overlooking Mission Valley. Upon application of parent or guardian or upon juvenile court commitment admits orphan, half-orphan, or otherwise dependent children between 2 and 14 years of age without restriction as to color, religion or nationality. Requires an entrance physical examination. Accepts certificate of physician not connected with the Home. Quarantines all children upon entrance until report from examination is received. Does not accept children suffering from contagious or infectious diseases or needing the attention of a nurse. Provides dental and medical care through cooperation with public school dentist and County Hospital and Clinic. Maintains isolation ward in separate building and has physician on call. Children attend San Diego public schools where in addition to academic education they receive manual training and instruction in domestic science. The few sub-normal children attend the Opportunity School. Visiting teacher gives weekly instruction in singing and folk dancing. Home provides opportunity for outdoor play and gardening. S. in the World War or other wars, including former American citizens who served in allied armies against the central powers; to promote closer agricultural settlement; to assist deserving and qualified persons to acquire small, improved farms. In accordance with the above, the Board gives preference over civilian applicants to any citizen of California who served with the armed forces of the U. S. as above described. Each settler should have practical knowledge of farming. No applicant will be approved who does not satisfy the Board as to his fitness to cultivate and develop the allotment applied for. The settler must pay down 5 per cent of the cost of the land and the remainder within 40 years; he must pay down 40 per cent of the cost of improvement and the remainder within 20 years. He should also have enough money to buy a working equipment of tools and live stock; $1,500 cash or its equivalent in tools and live stock has been fixed as the minimum capital a settler is required to have. The State Land Settlement Board reserves the right to reject any or all applicants as it may see fit. Settlers must be prepared to enter within six months upon actual occupancy of the land acquired, and must continue residence at least eight months during each year for at least ten years. Applications for farm allotments must be made out on the official blanks provided by the State Land Settlement Board and filed at its office in the Agricultural Hall, Berkeley.

COUNTY BOARDS OF EDUCATION. See State System of Education Officials.

COUNTY BOARDS OF SUPERVISORS. See State and County Poor Relief System.

COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEYS. Complaints regarding desertion and non-support, which is a felony in California, are made through the District Attorney who enforces the law. (A first offender, if brought before a judge of the lower courts, may be convicted and the sentence suspended, the defendant being put in charge of an adult probation officer, upon his promise to pay a stipulated sum at stated intervals to his family. If he fails to make payments, he may again be brought before the court and may be sentenced to jail for a term of months. A second or later offender, if examined by a lower court and held to answer, may be brought before the superior court, and, if convicted, is subject to heavy fine or imprisonment in a county or State prison. An enabling act provides that a person so convicted may be compelled to labor upon public roads or highways or other public work, the county supervisors, in such case, being instructed to pay to the family of the prisoner the sum of $1.50 for each day's work).

COUNTY FARM ADVISERS. See University of California, College of Agriculture.

COUNTY FREE LIBRARIES. The board of supervisors of any county in California is empowered by legislative act to establish and maintain at the county seat a free circulating and reference library for such portions of the county as lie outside of incorporated cities and towns and outside of library districts maintaining libraries. After the establishment of a county free library, any city, town, or district library maintained in the county, may, if it wishes, become a part of the county library system, its benefits being then available to the inhabitants of such town, city or district. A county wherein a county free library has been established may enter into contract with other counties, granting the inhabitants of such counties the benefits of the library. Such other counties are permitted to levy a tax for the purpose of entering into this contract. County free libraries may cooperate with law libraries or with school or teachers' libraries that may be established within the county, and may manage and maintain such libraries as part of the county library. The county free library is under the general management of the county board of supervisors, which make rules governing it, employs the librarian, and establishes throughout the county branches or stations as may seem advisable. A commission, consisting of the State librarian of the San Francisco Public Library and the Librarian of the Los Angeles Public Library, is established for the purpose of passing upon the qualifications of all persons desiring to become county free librarians. The county librarian, subject to the rules of the board of supervisors, and under the supervision of the State librarian, shall build up and manage a library for the use of the people of the county, and shall determine the books and equipment to be purchased. County free libraries have been established in a number of counties in the State. They are maintained by county tax.

The 38 county agents, one serving each county in the State, are in the cooperative employ of the county, University of California, and Federal Department of Agriculture. They organize community committees and teach better methods of agricultural practice by conducting practical demonstrations.

County Farm Advisers maintain headquarters at the county seats of the counties in which they are located. They extend the knowledge which agricultural colleges and experiment stations have gained through research work of investigators and from other sources. They cooperate with the farm bureau federation of the county in which they are located; attend monthly meetings of the various farm bureau centers (for description of the federations and centers see California Farm Bureau Federation); upon request they make farm visits to help solve specific problems; arrange with the farmers of their respective counties for demonstrations. Advisers include county agricultural agents who deal with farm problems and home demonstration agents who deal with problems of the home. The service is not limited to purely agricultural matters, but covers farm and home sanitation and home economics as well. The Advisers are members of the faculty of the University of California (q.v.); they are Federal and State representatives, being under the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the College of Agriculture of the State University in cooperation.

Home Demonstration Agents, Miss Harriet G. Eddy, State Home Demonstration Leader, Division of Agricultural Extension, College of Agriculture, Univ. of Calif., Berkeley. To work with groups and individuals in the agricultural areas of the State; to help the farm and home solve their problems so that life in the country shall be more permanent, more profitable and more enjoyable. Maintains a staff of Home Demonstration Agents in various counties of the State. Activities include discussion and solution of problems of clothing; home furnishing; home management; sanitation; food preservation; poultry and gardening; community needs; nutrition both for the adult and the child, including a study of foods and a practical application of that information to the food work in the home, hot school lunches, child-feeding demonstrations in cooperation with the county nurse; any other problem which the rural housewife desires to present. Supported by cooperative appropriations from Federal, State, and County funds.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON HOME, East 33d Ave., Los Angeles. A non-sectarian maternity institution with a home atmosphere. Upon application in person or by relatives or other agencies, or upon juvenile court commitment, receives young unmarried mothers for care before and after confinement. Those who are homeless are expected to promise to stay six months. Home does not accept women having venereal diseases. Employs a graduate nurse who is in charge of delivery room, nursery, and a hospital of 10 beds; also retains a medical staff on call. Girls receive instruction in simple sewing and through helping in the work of the Home learn house work. Policy of Home is to encourage the mother to keep her baby. If necessary, babies are boarded at the Home until the mother is established at regular work and able to assume full responsibility. Applicant or her relatives pay if able. Capacity 40 girls and 31 babies. For description of the national organization see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON HOME, 376 Twentieth Ave., San Francisco. A maternity home giving unmarried girls and women care before and after confinement, and a fresh start in life. Admits girls upon application in person, by relatives, or by other agencies. There is no limit as to length of time girl may stay at the Home. Girls receive confinement care at the University of California Hospital. When their babies are two weeks old, mothers return to the Home where they continue to be under the medical supervision of the University of California Clinic. Home encourages girls to keep their babies and assists in finding homes where they can work and have their babies with them. Some girls work and assume the responsibility of keeping their babies in boarding homes. Native Sons' and Daughters' Central Committee for Homeless Children cooperates. Relatives pay if able. Capacity 14 girls and babies.

HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES FOR THE FREE TREATMENT OF VENEREAL DISEASES.

Included in this list are only those hospitals and dispensaries offering State-wide service for persons infected with venereal diseases. Other clinics and dispensaries of various kinds are not listed since their service is local. The clinics herein listed give free treatment to indigent cases. They give each patient a pamphlet of instructions setting forth the necessity of continuous treatment and of the prevention of transmission of infection. In Los Angeles and San Francisco there are special clinics for the treatment of children. Prenatal work for syphilitics is being done in the majority of these clinics. Practically all the clinics have social workers who follow up the cases and endeavor to see that the patients remain under treatment until dismissed by the physicians.

Children able to do so attend high school in Healdsburg. Capacity for boys, 150; for girls, 50.

Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home (Truelove), 2670 North Griffin Ave., Los Angeles. A refuge giving medical care to unmarried mothers during confinement. Accepts any girl about to become a mother on condition that she agrees to stay at least three months and help with the work of the Home when able. Upon juvenile court commitment admits wayward girls and those who are addicted to drink; these girls, however, are in the minority. Maintains an infirmary with a nurse in charge; also retains a physician on call. Gives instruction in general housework and care of babies. Provides music, outdoor games, and reading for recreation. Gives follow-up supervision.

Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home (Beulah), 5205 Underwood Ave., Oakland. Upon application in person, upon recommendation by Salvation Army officers or by friends, or upon juvenile court commitment admits unmarried girls facing motherhood without other place to go. Has a delivery room and a nursery for infants. Girls must agree to stay at least three months. The mother is encouraged to nurse her baby and is taught how to care for it. She is also taught sewing and housework. Parents or girl pay if able. Capacity 50 women and 12 babies.

Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home, 942 Park Ave., San Jose. On premises formerly occupied by the Florence Crittenton Home. Is in process of reorganization. Will be conducted on plan similar to the Salvation Army Rescue Homes, Beulah and Truelove (see above).

SAN DIEGO CHILDREN'S HOME ASSOCIATION, 16th and Ash Sts., (in Balboa Park), San Diego. A non-sectarian home conducted on the cottage plan. Admits abandoned, orphan, half-orphan, or otherwise destitute boys and girls between 3 months and 14 years of age. Accepts children upon application of parent or guardian or upon juvenile court commitment. Admission to the Home does not mean consent to future adoption. Entrants must present certificate of health. Home employs a graduate nurse who is in charge of hospital cottage which has operating room equipment and facilities for isolation. Maintains a modern cottage nursery with a paid attending physician. Children attend public schools. They receive religious training in the Methodist Episcopal Church. Play space and recreation provided. Capacity 36 boys; 43 girls; 25 babies.

SAN FRANCISCO LADIES' PROTECTION AND RELIEF SOCIETY, 1200 Franklin St., San Francisco. A home for destitute boys between 6 and 10 and girls between 6 and 14 years of age. Does not accept colored or mentally defective children. Requires entrance physical examination. Receives children upon application of parent or guardian or upon juvenile court commitment. Has isolation ward and retains physician on call. Children attend public school. Boys are given manual training and girls special instruction in sewing and cooking. Home maintains a summer camp. Religious training given in Episcopal, Methodist, and Unitarian churches. Parents pay if able. Capacity 100.

SAN FRANCISCO NURSERY FOR HOMELESS CHILDREN, 1350 Lake St., San Francisco. Admits orphan, half-orphan, abandoned, or otherwise destitute boys and girls between 3 and 15 years old. Accepts children upon application of parent or guardian or upon juvenile court commitment. Has an infirmary. Outside physicians and hospitals cooperate. Conducts a kindergarten on the premises; older children attend public school. Gives vocational guidance based on results of mental tests. Children do much of the work of the Home; they are paid a small amount for their services. One member of Board has entire charge of dismissals and follow-up work. Parents pay if able. Capacity 90.

SAN FRANCISCO PROTESTANT ORPHANAGE SOCIETY, 7th and Lake Sts., San Francisco. Upon application of parent or guardian or upon juvenile court commitment admits orphan, half-orphan, and destitute children between 2 and 10 years of age without restriction as to race or religion. Accepts children over 10 only if they are full orphans. Admission does not mean consent to future adoption. Requires for entrance a physician's certificate attesting to child's vaccination and freedom from contagious disease. Maintains isolation ward and retains a physician on call. Children attend public kindergarten and school, and receive weekly instruction in music, dancing, manual arts, and sewing. Religious instruction given in Presbyterian Church. Older children belong to and enjoy benefits of Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. Parents pay if able. Capacity 70 boys; 55 girls.

After-Care. Asylum secures free homes for many children upon release and places some children out to service by indenture. By this latter system, after a child has satisfactorily passed a three months' probation period, foster parent signs contract to provide maintenance and clothes in return for service rendered until child is 18, and at that time gives him two complete outfits of clothing and $50 cash. Ginn House, where boys can live and attend a technical school, and The Rock, a boys' boarding club, cooperate.

SAN QUENTIN STATE PRISON, San Quentin. The law provides that all convicted persons committed to prison shall be sent to San Quentin, where segregation occurs, the older and more hardened criminals being transferred to Folsom and the younger and more impressionable first-tenners being retained at San Quentin. Seeks to train prisoners for decent living; to fit them for self-support; to teach obedience to and respect for lawful authority; and to reduce the number of possible repeaters. Prison authorities give complete physical and mental entrance examination. The insane are reported to the Judge of the Superior Court in this district and transferred to State hospitals. Prison provides medical and dental treatment for prisoners whose physical condition demands it. Calls in specialists when necessary. Places tuberculous patients in quarters where they practically live and sleep in the open air. Provides treatment for drug addicts and persons suffering from venereal diseases. Gives training to those who need it as determined after mental examination. Conducts a graded night school with inmate teachers. Extension Department of the University of California (q.v.) offers correspondence courses in agricultural and academic subjects. Prison makes efforts to teach inmates habits of industry and to provide occupations varied enough to give work to all and to teach trades to many. It operates factories which supply furniture, clothing, shoes, tinware, and flags to State offices and institutions. It also operates a jute mill where grain bags for farmers of the State are made. Some prisoners do outdoor work around the prison. Selected prisoners are assigned to camps in the mountains for construction of roads under the State Highway Commission (q.v.). Factors entering into discipline are the credit system for good conduct; the "indeterminate sentence" law which provides for the observation of prisoners serving their minimum term before sentence has been determined by the State Board of Prison Directors (q.v.); chance of securing parole; and the cooperation of the Medical and Educational Department. Religious services are held regularly. Prison provides recreation; athletic games, managed by the prisoners' own leagues, are especially encouraged. Endeavor is made to find employment for all prisoners upon their release.

SANTA CRUZ FEMALE ORPHAN ASYLUM, Mission Hill, Santa Cruz. Admits destitute girls up to 18 years of age. Observes State regulations regarding entrance examination. Outside physicians, specialists, and dentists cooperate in caring for health of children. Sisters also conduct a day school which covers elementary and high school work and includes training in commercial and domestic science. Instruction in dancing, piano, and vocal music available by special arrangement. Parents pay if able. Capacity 125. Under auspices of Roman Catholic Sisters of Charity.

Girls attend St. Joseph's Academy which has kindergarten as well as grammar and high school classes. Instruction in choral singing, dancing, and elocution given to those who display ability. Parents or guardians pay according to ability. Capacity 55. Under auspices of Roman Catholic Sisters of Mercy.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE, Sacramento. Established by legislature. Conducts the State Fair annually and aids in the conduct of local, county, and district fairs. Publishes an annual statistical report.

STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS (created 1903), 995 Market St., San Francisco; Branch Office, Pacific Finance Bldg., Los Angeles. Consists of six unpaid members appointed by the Governor for four years; employs a secretary and staff. Supervises, investigates, and reports on all State, county, and city charitable, correctional, and penal institutions. Licenses agencies which place children in homes either to board or for adoption; institutions and family boarding homes caring for dependent and delinquent children; preventoria; day nurseries; maternity hospitals and homes and hospitals having maternity departments; and rescue homes. Prescribes records for State institutions, county hospitals, almshouses, county jails, city prisons, county out-relief systems, and county welfare departments. Holds hearings in connection with public institutions under its supervision; requires the production of books and papers, and administers oaths. Organizes through boards of supervisors county welfare departments for proper expenditure and supervision of relief. Keeps on file reports to superior court judges legally required from probation committees, juvenile probation officers and adult probation officers, requires a copy of papers showing relinquishment of a child by parents or guardian for the purpose of adoption to be filed before adoption is completed. Passes upon plans of new buildings or parts of buildings of all institutions legally under the supervision of the Board.

Standards for Family Boarding Homes for Children, adopted by the State Board of Charities and Corrections of California, April 27, 1921 are as follows:

1. Definition

A family boarding home for children is a private family home which accepts one or more children to board.

2. Number of Children

- (a) Since the family boarding home is primarily a home, the number of children in it shall not exceed that number which it is customary to think of as constituting a normal family group. The number of boarded children should not exceed six.
- (b) Unless especially equipped for the care of infants alone, not more than two infants shall be allowed in any family boarding home.

3. References

Satisfactory references must be furnished.

4. Register

A register shall be kept in which shall be recorded the name, age, and sex of the child; the names and addresses of parents or guardians; religion of child; date of reception; name of person or agency from whom received; date of discharge of each child, and to whom it went; also a health record showing condition of the child on entrance to home and any subsequent illness or accident. Such register has been prescribed and printed by the State Board of Charities and Corrections and is supplied free of charge. This register must at all times be open to the inspector from the State Board of Charities and Corrections.

5. Housing

- (a) The home shall conform in building and maintenance to the sanitary ordinances of the city or county in which it is located, and shall have the permit or endorsement of the local board of health or health officer.
- (b) The house must be in a residence district (not commercial or factory), convenient to school, with sufficient room to accommodate the family group and the boarded children in a comfortable and sanitary way, and with yard space large enough for a home playground for the children.
- (c) Sleeping rooms must afford at least 400 cubic feet of space for each occupant, and must have plenty of windows opening upon street or yard, not upon dark courts.

6. Care of Children

- (a) The dietary shall be up to the standard approved by the State Board of Charities and Corrections and should include at least one pint of milk daily for each child. Formulae for feeding infants should be prescribed by a registered physician.
- (b) Each child shall have a separate bed. Each bed shall have a good spring a clean comfortable mattress, adequate bedding, and rubber sheeting for infants and bed-wetters.
- (c) Proper medical supervision shall be guaranteed each child.
- (d) Individual hair and tooth brushes, towel, etc., should be provided and each child instructed in their use.
- (e) Every child of proper age shall be given opportunity to attend Sabbath school or church of the religious faith of its parents.
- (f) Children under 14 years shall have no routine work other than school tasks but there is no objection to their performing simple home duties, providing these do not interfere with their having ample opportunity for school and play.

- (g) During the absence of the foster-mother, children must be left in charge of a competent person.

The sum paid for the support of the children shall not be the only source of income for the family group; there must be some other resource.

8. Adult Boarders

No adult male boarders or roomers shall be permitted.

9. Removal of Children

When a child is given up, it must be to the parent, guardian, or other person having a legal right to receive it.

10. Reports

- (a) The death or serious illness of any child must be reported promptly to the State Board of Charities and Corrections and to the parent or guardian of the child.
- (b) Any change in the management or address of the foster home must be reported to the State Board of Charities and Corrections.
- (c) Failure to make these reports may constitute cause for revocation of license.

STATE BOARD OF CONTROL, Capitol Bldg., Sacramento. A State department established by law, consisting of three members appointed by the Governor. It has general control of the payment of claims against State funds and appropriations; it must examine and pass upon all claims against the State for which no appropriation has been made and make recommendations to the Legislature in order that money for the payment of such claims may be appropriated. It must approve all contracts for the purchase of supplies by State officers, boards, bureaus, or institutions. It has control of the funds appropriated by the Legislature each biennial year to furnish aid to orphans, half-orphans, dependent, illegitimate, or abandoned children, or children of tubercular fathers incapacitated for labor. The amount appropriated is $10 a month for each child, except in the case of foundlings up to the age of 2 years, for whom $15 is allowed. The funds are paid to certain child-caring institutions and boarding homes, to widowed mothers, and in rare cases to fathers, so that the child may remain in the custody of the living parent. In addition to the sum paid by the State for dependent children, there is a provision that the county, city and county, or city or town may pay for the support of such children an amount equal to the amount paid by the State, in each case making a maximum of $20 a month for each child under 16 years of age. A child who has not resided in California for a period of 2 years prior to the time of application, unless born in the State, is not eligible for State aid. Application for State and county aid should be made to the County Board of Supervisors (q.v.). Through its children's agents the State Board of Control investigates and determines in each case whether State funds are to be allowed. Applicants refused

State aid by the County Board of Supervisors may appeal to the State Board of Control by filing a petition stating necessity for State aid. This appeal must be verified by five reputable citizens who know the facts stated to be true. If the appeal is sustained by the State, payment must be made according to the law. The power to allow county funds resides in the County Board of Supervisors.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION. See State System of Education Officials.

STATE BOARD OF FORESTRY. See California State Board of Forestry.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH. See State System of Health Officials.

STATE BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS. See State System of Health Officials.

STATE BOARD OF PRISON DIRECTORS, Sacramento. Has power by law to establish rules and regulations under which any prisoner in any State prison may be allowed to go upon parole outside the buildings and enclosures, provided he remains, while on parole, in the custody and under the control of the Board and subject at any time to be taken back within the enclosures of the prison. No prisoner may be paroled who has not a six months' good conduct record; nor may any prisoner be paroled who has not served one year of the first term for which he was convicted, or two years of the second term for which he was convicted, or seven years of a life sentence. The Governor has the power to revoke the parole of any prisoner. No prisoner is allowed to leave the prison upon parole until an agreement to employ him has been returned by the prospective employer to State Board of Prison Directors. Change of employment of paroled prisoners must be approved by the Board. During the period of parole prisoner must mail monthly report to the State Parole Officer, Room 6, Ferry Bldg., San Francisco. He must also appear monthly before this officer or before a peace officer designated by the State Board of Prison Directors. A prisoner remains upon parole until expiration of his sentence, until commutation of his sentence fixing date of expiration sooner, or until his pardon.

STATE BOARD OF TRADE. See California Development Board.

STATE CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORK, Pres., Judge Sydney C. Marsh, San Diego. To study the principles which underlie social work; to investigate, collect, and disseminate facts regarding the problems and methods of human improvement. Seeks to increase the efficiency of agencies and institutions devoted to this cause. Cooperates in matters of social legislation. Holds an annual conference at such place as is designated by the members or by the executive committee. At this meeting Conference has section meetings on Family and Child Welfare, Health, Delinquency, Industrial Problems, and Education. Membership open to California residents interested in social work, and any agency, institution, public department or bureau engaged in social work in California. Supported by membership dues: honorary, $100 and up; patron, $25 to $100; sustaining, $10 to $24; active, $1 to $9.

STATE, COUNTY, AND MUNICIPAL SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT. The California Constitution provides for the distribution of the powers of government among three separate departments: the executive, legislative, and judicial.

The Executive Department. The State Constitution vests the supreme executive power of the State in a Governor, and provides for a Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Attorney General, and Surveyor General. The Governor must see that the laws are faithfully executed. He is commander-in-chief of the militia. He has veto power. The Lieutenant Governor is president of the Senate. The Secretary of State has custody of all public records and documents. The Treasurer receives and disburses money belonging to the State. The Controller adjusts public accounts. The Attorney General has charge of all legal matters in which the State is interested. The Surveyor General surveys boundary lines of political divisions of the State and has charge of school lands.

The Legislative Department. The legislative power of the State is vested in the State Legislature, which is made up of a Senate and an Assembly, and holds its regular sessions in odd-numbered years. Senatorial and assembly districts are established by legislative enactment. The State is divided into 40 senatorial districts and 80 assembly districts. One senator is elected from each senatorial district for a term of four years; one assemblyman is elected from each assembly district for a term of two years.

The Judiciary Department. The State Constitution places the judicial power of the State in a Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, in a Supreme Court, district courts of appeal, superior courts, and such inferior courts as the Legislature may establish.

Juvenile Courts. The California Juvenile Court Law (approved June 5, 1915) provides for the establishment and maintenance of a separate court in each county or city and county. It is concerned with persons under the age of 21 years, in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance, in other cases providing for their probationary treatment, and if probation fails, for their commitment to Whittier State School (q.v.), Preston School of Industry (q.v.), California School for Girls (q.v.), or other institutions. Provides for probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons. Authorizes the establishment of detention homes, fixes the method of treatment or commitment of minors who have committed crimes. It also provides for the punishment of persons guilty of offenses against minors, and defines such crimes. Children without parents or guardians able to provide for them may be brought into the juvenile court and declared wards of the court, and the county may be ordered to pay for their support and maintenance a sum not to exceed $20 a month, the child to be left in the parent's home, or boarded in an institution or in an approved private boarding home under the oversight of some recognized social agency. Commitments are made for a period of six months and are subject to review by the court before the renewal is made. In counties or cities and counties having but one judge of the superior court, that officer is known as the "juvenile court judge" while administering the Juvenile Court Law. Counties or cities and counties having more than one judge designate one such person as "juvenile court judge".

Inferior Courts are known either as township courts or as municipal or police courts, with equal powers and duties. They have exclusive jurisdiction in cases of law in which the money involved is not more than $300 and exclusive criminal jurisdiction over misdemeanors that are punishable by fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months. In cities of the first and second class exception is made to this rule, police courts there having jurisdiction over all misdemeanors, whatever the punishment. Justices of the peace in township courts and police judges in municipal courts, except the justices in San Francisco, are required to perform the duties of magistrates; they are elected at the county elections for a term of four years.

Township Courts. Each county is divided by its Board of Supervisors into judicial townships each of which has one justice of the peace who presides over the township court.

Municipal or police courts are presided over by police judges and are established either by city charter or by law. Any city charter may provide for a police court. Cities whose charters make no such provisions have city justice courts established by law.

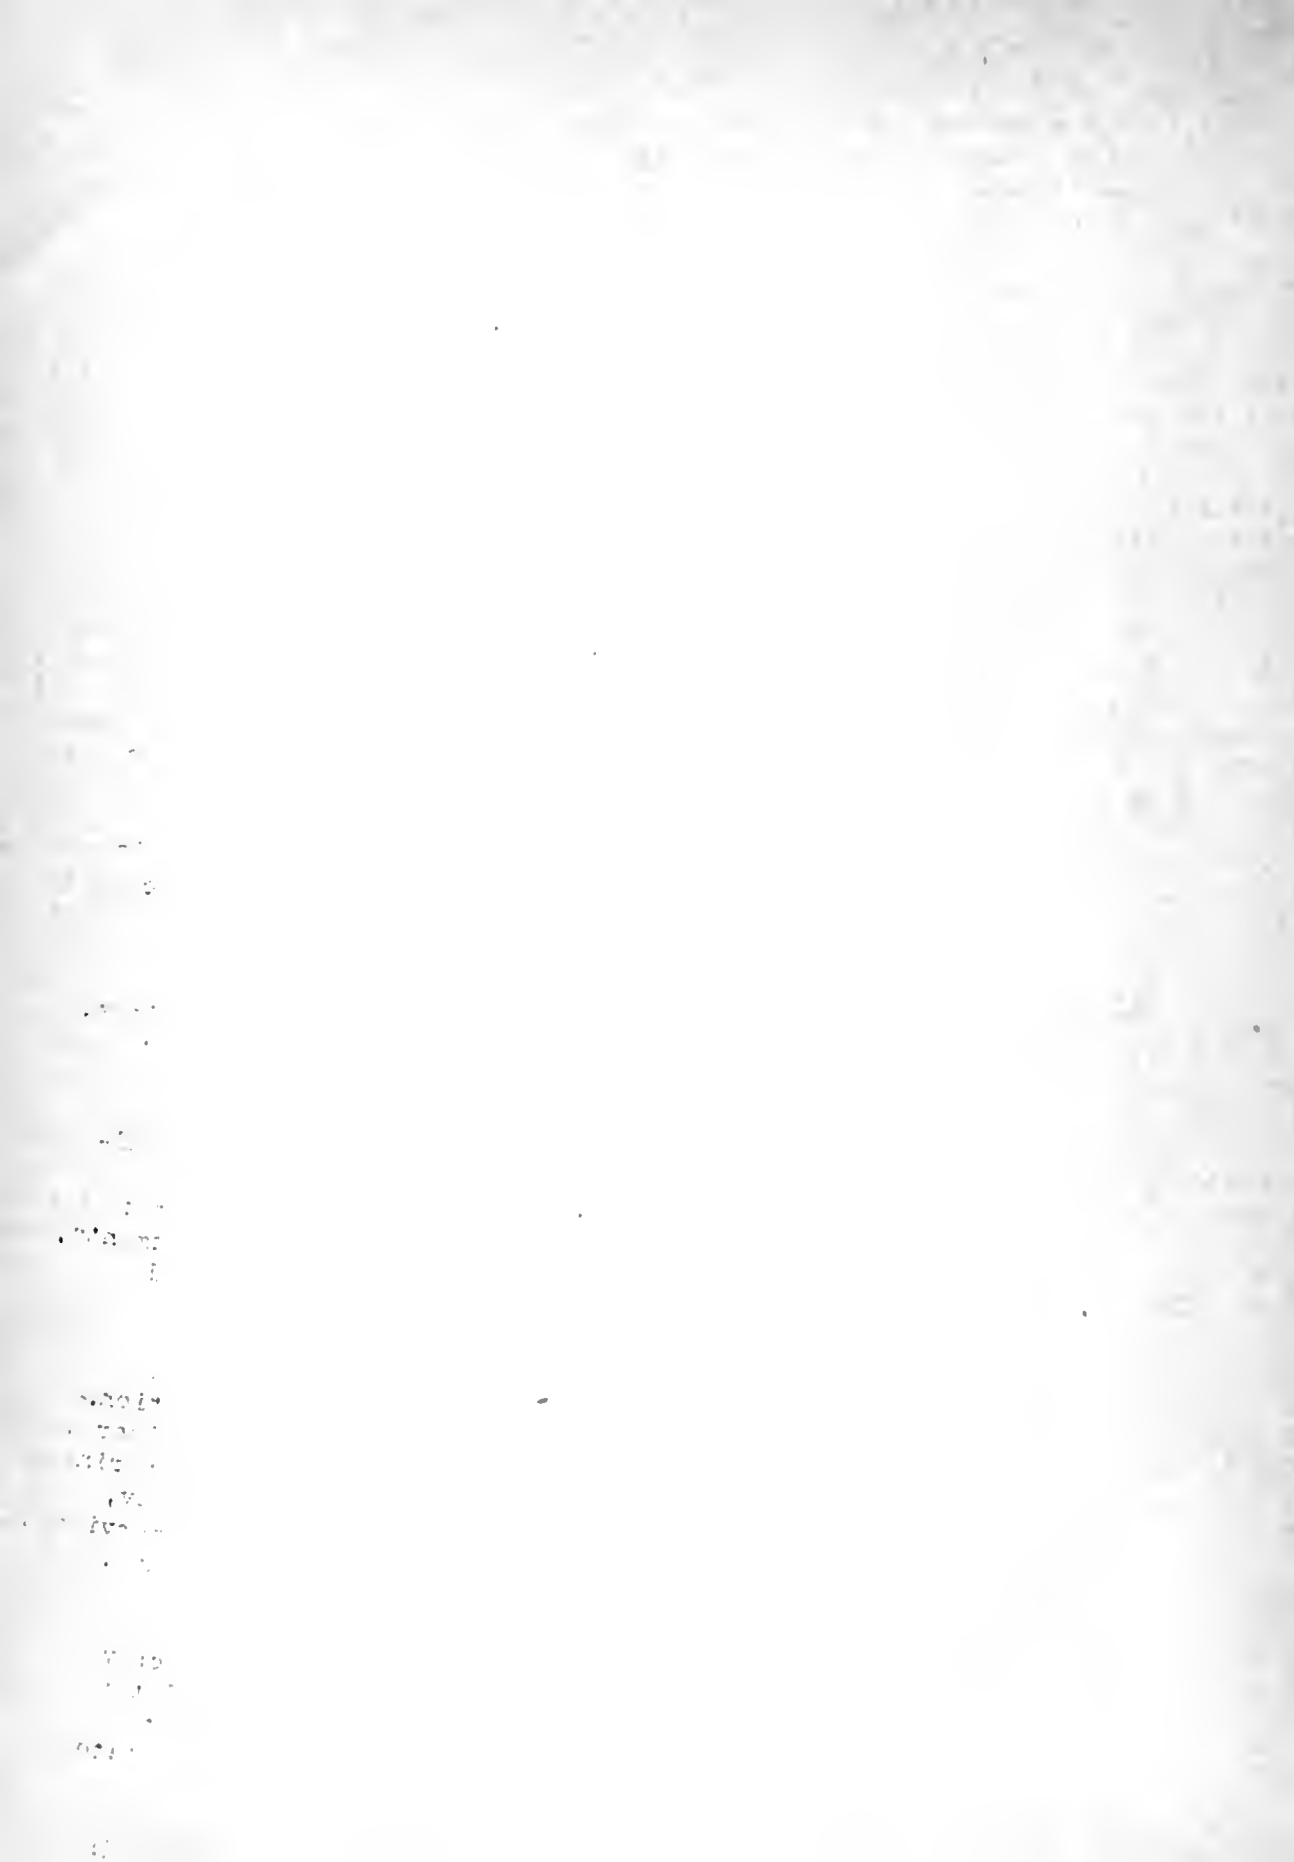

Superior Courts. A superior court is established in each county, or city and county in the State, and has at least one judge, elected for six years. It has both original and appellate jurisdiction. All equity cases, all cases at law that involve more than $300 in money or property, all probate cases, divorce cases, and various other civil cases, originate in the superior court. It acts as an agent of the U. S. Government in naturalizing aliens. A District Court of Appeal, consisting of three justices, is established in each of the three appellate court districts into which the State is divided. One of these courts is located in San Francisco, one in Los Angeles, and one in Sacramento. The justices of these courts are elected for a term of 12 years, one of them being chosen at each general election.

The Supreme Court consists of a Chief Justice and six associate justices, elected for a term of 12 years. It has appellate jurisdiction in all cases and proceedings pending in a district court of appeal.

Administration of State Government. The government of the State is administered largely through various department, boards, and commissions, the functions of which are treated elsewhere in the Handbook. (See agencies listed under State Agencies in the Subject Index) A complete list of boards, departments, and commissions is to be found in the California Roster of State, County, and City and Township Officials.

County Government. The county is the unit of local government, the agency of the State created for the purpose of putting State law into execution. The chief officers and governing bodies are the following: Board of Supervisors, County Clerk, Treasurer, Assessor, Auditor, Recorder, Coroner, Surveyor, Superintendent of Schools, Superior Judges, Justices of the Peace, District Attorney, Sheriff, Public Administrator, and County Health Officer. The Board of Supervisors exercises limited legislative functions, subject to initiative and referendum. There are 58 counties in California.

City or Town Government. There is no distinction between the city and town in California. The corporation receives its charter from the legislature and calls itself city or town as desired. Under its charter the city or town looks after its local and municipal affairs and acts as the agent of the State in matters of State-wide importance. There is no direct political relation between a city or town as a corporation and the county in which it is located. Each does its work independently, unless a combination of city and county governments is made, as in the City and County of San Francisco. Each city or town charter provides for its general officers and assigns them their duties. The chief officers consist of the Governing Board of City Commissioners, the Mayor or City Manager, the City Clerk, and other departmental heads.

STATE AND COUNTY POOR RELIEF SYSTEM. The State Government provides care for the insane, the blind, and the feeble-minded; it cooperates with the county in the care of orphans, half-orphans, and abandoned children who are eligible for State aid; and in the care of the tuberculous in the county hospitals maintained at standards acceptable to the State Board of Health. The county government provides for the dependent poor, for those incapacitated by age, disease or accident; and for children not eligible for State aid. The law provides that the county shall investigate and supervise its dependent cases and shall keep record of such work, the forms of the records to be prescribed by the State Board of Charities and Corrections (q.v.).

Institutional Relief. The State government maintains hospitals and homes for certain types of dependents; it assists, by subsidies, private institutions, societies, and counties in the care of children eligible for State aid, and county hospitals in the care of the tuberculous. The county is empowered by law to establish and maintain hospitals and infirmaries for aged and sick poor.

Out-door Relief. The State grants out-door relief only to children who are eligible for State aid. The county grants out-door relief to the aged, the sick, or otherwise incapacitated; to the non-self-supporting family; and to children both eligible and non-eligible for State aid.

County Board of Supervisors. Provide out-door relief for the dependent poor, for those incapacitated by age, disease, or accident, and for children not eligible for State aid. It is empowered by law to establish and maintain hospitals and infirmaries for aged and sick poor. They must designate a proper person to have charge of the decent burial of all soldiers, sailors, and marines, and their widows, who die without means. A sum of $75 is allowed for each burial, this expense to be borne by the county in which the death occurs; if deceased is not a resident of that county this sum is to be refunded by the county of which he was a legal resident. The Board of Supervisors also receives all applications for orphans' aid and disburses funds for such aid. Pays the sum of $1.50 for each day's work to the family of prisoners convicted of a second or later offense of desertion and non-support and compelled to labor upon public roads or highways or other public work. After consultation with the State Board of Charities and Corrections and local citizens interested in social work, appoints members of the County Welfare Commission.

County Welfare Commission. Administers county relief funds in such a way as to restore dependents to self-support. To it are referred questions regarding health, employment, recreation, and moral welfare of citizens, as well as material relief for dependents. It makes monthly reports to the County Board of Supervisors regarding investigations made, work done, and claims for relief granted and expenses incurred therewith. Each commission employs as secretary a trained social worker who is paid from county funds.

STATE DAIRY BUREAU, San Rafael. It is the duty of the State Dairy Bureau with the assistance of the Pure Food and Drug Laboratory, to enforce provisions calling for tuberculin testing of cows and the marking of reactors. The Bureau, with the approval and assistance of the Pure Food and Drug Laboratory, is empowered to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and advisable for such enforcement.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, Sacramento. Established by legislature. Charged with the protection of State agriculture through the enforcement of horticultural and agricultural laws. Conducts its work through three departments. Division of Plant Industry inspects all horticultural and agricultural imports; controls insect and rodent pests and plant diseases; standardizes grades of fruit and vegetables offered for sale; studies problems of viticulture. Division of Animal Industry tests milk and promotes better methods for the operation of creameries; enforces laws relating to hides and brands; inspects meats offered for sale; inspects animals for tuberculosis and disposes of those infected. Division of Chemistry enforces insecticide and fertilizer laws; tests sprays and fumigant chemicals.

STATE GRANGE OF PATRONS OF AGRICULTURE, Master, George R. Harrison, Sebastopol. An organization of farmers for cooperation and mutual improvement. Is a member of the National Grange, for description of which see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION. See California Highway Commission.

STATE HOMES FOR FEEBLE-MINDED AND EPILEPTICS. Parents, relatives or guardians wishing to enter feeble-minded or epileptic persons in State Homes should write to the Superintendent of the institution selected for admission application form. This form should be filled out with the help of the physician who has examined patient, and should be returned to the Superintendent, who holds it until there is a vacancy in the grade to which applicant belongs. When the vacancy occurs, the Superintendent mails a court form to the parent or guardian who should take it immediately to the district attorney of the county, whose duty it is to set the date of hearing at which patient and parent or guardian must appear before the board of medical examiners and the superior court judge. When commitment is made, parents or guardians pay institution, if able. Persons whose parents or guardians are unable to pay may be committed at public expense. The following Homes established by law are under boards of managers appointed by the Governor and are supported by the State:

Pacific Colony for Epileptics and Feeble-Minded, Walnut. A home farm colony located on a 1,000-acre tract. Admits feeble-minded or epileptic boys committed to it by juvenile courts or transferred to it from State institutions. No restrictions as to age, color or nationality. Employs a supervising physician. Los Angeles clinics cooperate in giving medical care.

Sonoma State Home, Elridge. Admits feeble-minded and epileptic residents of the State committed to it by the courts. Provides medical, surgical, and dental care. Gives training in shop work, laundering, and domestic science. Specially selected inmates are paroled for work in families. Boys and girls who are able work in the tomato cannery at Sonoma; some boys also work in the vineyards. Money earned in this work is placed to the personal credit of inmates earning it. Home employs a social worker to conduct parole and research work. Capacity 1,537.

STATE LAW ENFORCEMENT LEAGUE, 670 Monadnock Bldg., San Francisco. A private agency, State-wide in operation, organized for the enforcement of laws against liquor, vice, gambling, and the use of drugs. Employs a detective force and works in cooperation with Federal, State, and local authorities for the suppression of crime. Supported by voluntary subscriptions.

STATE LIBRARY, Sacramento. Established by legislature. Furnishes library facilities to all visitors and lends books to other libraries in the State. Supported by State funds.

STATE MARKET COMMISSION, 525 Market St., San Francisco. Established by legislature. Under a State Market Director, appointed by the Governor, who is empowered to establish and maintain in any city or town in the State suitable depots or stations to be used as commission markets for the receiving, care, sale, or distribution of the agricultural, fishery, dairy or farm products of California; to rent lands and to rent or purchase equipment for carrying on such business; to maintain a bureau of correspondence for gathering or disseminating information on all subjects relating to the marketing of California products; to issue booklets, and by every practicable means to keep producers informed of the supply and demand of the markets where goods can best be handled. Producers and manufacturers are given the right to consign their products to these markets for sale and distribution. State Market Commission is supported by legislative appropriation and by a revolving fund secured from the Commissions charged by the established markets.

STATE NORMAL SCHCOLS, at Arcata, Chico, Fresno, San Diego, San Francisco, San Jose, and Santa Barbara. By law decreed for the education of teachers for the schools of the State. By provision of the State Board of Education (q.v.) a graduate of a high school of California, recommended by the high school concerned as qualified for admission to the University of California (q.v.) and to any normal school of the State, may be admitted to a State normal school. By agreement with the State University the recommendation blank for admission to the University or to normal schools is the same. High school principals throughout the State are supplied with these blanks. By recent act of legislature all normal schools of the State became State colleges for the training of teachers and also for maintaining Junior College courses covering the first two years of University work. The minimum length of time in residence to secure a diploma from the Teachers' Course is two years; three years is required for the course leading to junior standing in the universities of the State. In cooperation with the Pacific Division and local Red Cross Chapters, the majority of these schools in addition to their regular work in summer sessions, give the Red Cross courses in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. The U. S. Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board (q.v.) (see "Handbook of Social Resources of the U. S.", issued by the American Red Cross, National Headquarters), through granting appropriations, provides for lectures on social hygiene in normal schools of the State. This is done through the University of California. The Normal Schools are supported by State funds.

STATE PARK. California Redwood Park, located in the Santa Cruz Mountains. Comprises 7,000 acres of redwood trees. Reached by railroad and auto lines.

STATE PAROLE OFFICER. See State Board of Prison Directors.

STATE REGISTRAR. See State System of Health Officials, Bureau of Vital Statistics.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION. See State System of Education Officials.

STATE SYSTEM OF CARE OF THE INSANE. A complainant must appear before the county clerk and swear out a warrant for the apprehension of a person believed to be insane; or in emergency a complainant may apply to the police and later swear to the complaint. Persons believed insane are taken into custody by the police or are persuaded to go voluntarily to a place of detention where they are kept under observation for 24 hours. After this period a board of physicians examines them and makes a report to the judge of the Superior Court, who, acting on this report, either frees them or commits them to an asylum. Persons may voluntarily apply for admission to a State institution; they must submit to a period of observation and a medical examination and must be committed to the institution by the court.

Psychopathic Probation Officer. The office of psychopathic probation officer may be created in any county in the State of California by the Board of County Supervisors. This officer is nominated and appointed by a judge of the Superior Court. The duties of the probation officer are to secure information regarding the family and personal history of the alleged mentally sick or insane brought before the court, and report this information to the judge; to undertake the care and custody of patients who are psychopathic but not dangerous; to keep them under observation and make report from time to time; and to return the patient to the court if necessary or desirable.

Superintendent of State Hospital. A superintendent of any State hospital may grant to a patient a parole not exceeding 30 days. The guardian of such patient is given a certificate signed by the superintendent showing that the patient is paroled for 30 days. At the expiration of that time the certificate may be renewed for 30 days more. Patients may be kept on parole in this manner as long as the superintendent deems it advisable. The superintendent of a State hospital on filing his written certificate with the secretary of the board of managers, may discharge (1) a patient who in his judgment has recovered; (2) a patient who has not recovered, but whose discharge, in the judgment of the superintendent, will not be detrimental to the public welfare or injurious to the patient; (3) upon his motion or upon order of the Department of Institutions of the State of California (q.v.), a patient who is not insane, or who is not a proper case for treatment in the institution, or who is an idiot, imbecile, or is suffering from chronic mental unsoundness, or acute mania a potu. The medical superintendent may, when he deems it advisable, refuse to discharge any patient as improved, unless the guardian, friends or relatives of such patient satisfy the medical superintendent that they are willing and financially able to care properly for such patient after his discharge. When the superintendent is unwilling to discharge an unrecovered patient upon request, any superior judge of the county in which the hospital is situated may, upon proper proof, order the discharge of such patient, upon such security to the people of the State as he may require for the good behavior and maintenance of the patient.

Superior Judge. Any one in custody as an insane or incompetent person is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus, upon proper application made by the Department of Institutions, by such person, or by a relative or friend in his behalf to the superior judge of the county in which the hospital is located. Upon the return of such writ, the facts of his incompetency must be inquired into and determined. The medical history of such person, as it appears in the clinical record, must be given in evidence; and the superintendent in charge of the State hospital wherein such person is held in custody, and any other person having similar supervision must swear to the mental condition of such person.

STATE SYSTEM OF EDUCATION OFFICIALS.

Attendance Officers. Appointed by city or county school boards. They enforce the Compulsory Education Law, approved May, 1919, which provides that each parent, guardian, or other person having control of any child between 8 and 16 years of age shall be required to send such child to a public school for the full time for which the public school of the city, city and county, or school district in which the child resides shall be in session. The following classes of children are exempt from the requirements: children whose physical or mental condition is such as to prevent or render inadvisable attendance at school; children residing more than two miles from the school house; children who are being instructed in a private full-time day school by persons capable of teaching; children who are being instructed in study and recitation, for at least three hours a day for 160 days each calendar year by a private tutor or other person, in the several branches of study required to be taught in the public schools of the State, and in the English language; children who hold a permit to work or an age and schooling certificate granted by the proper judicial or educational officer according to law.

Commissioners of Education. Appointed by the State Board of Education. They serve as Assistant Superintendents of Public Instruction, with offices at Sacramento. Commissioners of Elementary and Secondary Education recommend courses of study and enforce the use of State text books in the elementary and secondary schools which are under their respective supervision. Commissioner of Vocational and Industrial Education conducts the Vocational Education and Industrial Rehabilitation Division work of the State Board under the Federal Board for Vocational Education; supervises all such schools as receive State aid and in which industrial or vocational work is given or contemplated.

County Boards of Education consist of the county superintendent and four other members appointed by the county board of supervisors. Each board has power to adopt lists of books and apparatus for district school libraries; to provide for the conferring of diplomas of graduation; to prescribe and enforce rules for examination of teachers; to prescribe the course of study for schools within the county; to have such printing done as may be necessary. Under the Act Providing for Physical Education, approved 1917, Board must provide for suitable courses in physical education for all pupils in public schools.

County Superintendent of Schools. The County Superintendent of Schools is elected by the qualified electors of the county in which he resides. He has supervision over all the schools of the county; apportions the school fund; visits all schools once a year; presides over teachers' institutes; grants certificates to teachers; distributes to school officers all laws and instructions which he receives from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

District School Trustees and City Boards of Education. Except where otherwise authorized by law, every school district is under the control of a Board of District School Trustees elected every three years. In cities, Boards of Education are elected under the respective city laws. District School Trustees and City Boards of Education alike have the power to prescribe and enforce rules not inconsistent with those of the State Board of Education for the government of schools in their territory. Under the Act Providing for Physical Education, they must provide for suitable courses of physical education for all pupils under their jurisdiction. They enforce regulations concerning the course of study and the use of text books prescribed by State authority; they are pledged to visit all schools in their territory once a year; they manage school property; employ teachers; make annual reports to the County Superintendent.

Physical Inspectors. Boards of school trustees, city or city and county boards of education are authorized to provide for proper health supervision of school children. They may appoint a school inspector or school inspectors. Such official may be a physician, a teacher, a nurse, an oculist, or a dentist. A physician so appointed must hold a certificate from the State Board of Medical Examiners (q.v.); a teacher must hold a life diploma of California or special credential in physical education; an oculist must hold a California certificate to practise medicine and surgery; a dentist must hold a certificate from the State Board of Dental Examiners; a nurse, a certificate of registration from the California State Board of Health (q.v.). In addition to the above requirements any such person appointed by the school boards must hold a health and development certificate, issued by the county and city boards of education. In town or rural districts where there is a public health nurse, inspection is generally made by her.

State Board of Education, Forum Bldg., Sacramento. Appointed by the Governor for a term of four years. Makes rules and regulations regarding the government of the Board itself and of its appointees and employees; of elementary and secondary day and evening schools; of technical and vocational schools; of normal schools; and of all such schools, except the University of California (q.v.), as receive financial support from the State. Studies educational conditions and needs of the State and makes plans for the improvement of the public schools. Has been designated to carry out the provisions of the Federal Vocational Education Act (known as the Smith-Hughes Act, approved in Congress February 23, 1917) which appropriates Federal money as matched dollar for dollar with State money for the promotion of education in agriculture and the trades and industries and for the preparation and payment of vocational teachers; also the provisions of the Industrial Rehabilitation Act, which provides for Federal cooperation with the States in rehabilitating and restoring to remunerative occupations any persons disabled in industry or otherwise.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Forum Bldg., Sacramento. Elected by the qualified voters of the State; is secretary and executive officer of the State Board of Education. Has general supervision over the schools of the State. Apportions the State school fund; visits normal schools and other schools throughout the State. Calls annual conventions of county and city superintendents of schools. Through Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Americanization his office establishes training centers for teachers on immigrants, and through cooperation with the Department of Immigrant Education of the Commission of Immigration and Housing (q.v.) makes demonstrations in certain centers; establishes libraries, baby clinics, recreation clubs, classes in citizenship. Is Director of Thrift Education for California. In several counties thrift has been made a part of the course of study by the county board of education. Bulletins and leaflets on thrift are sent to these counties from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, and Los Angeles have established school savingsbanks for the promotion of habits of thrift.

Supervisor of Industrial Rehabilitation, Forum Bldg., Sacramento.

Assistant Supervisors have offices at 507 Balboa Bldg., San Francisco, and Pacific Finance Bldg., Los Angeles. Appointed by the State Board of Education. Makes arrangements for all persons throughout the State who are vocationally handicapped and in need of retraining so that they may become self-supporting individuals. Books and schools will be provided without expense to the individual. As far as possible local business and high schools and colleges will be used so that the men need not be removed from their home towns. Employers in all shops and industries will be utilized where possible.

STATE SYSTEM OF HEALTH OFFICIALS.

State Board of Health, Forum Bldg., Sacramento; Lachman Bldg., San

Francisco; Pacific Finance Bldg., Los Angeles. Composed of seven practising physicians appointed by the Governor for a term of four years. The Secretary of the Board is the executive officer. He is charged with the enforcement of all orders and regulations of the Board, and must vigilantly observe sanitary conditions throughout the State and take all necessary precautions to protect it in its sanitary relations with other States and countries. Board meetings are held regularly on the first Saturday of each month, usually at Sacramento. Occasionally the meeting place is Los Angeles or San Francisco in order that the interests of the widely separated districts of the State may be adequately served. Powers and Duties. The Board is required by law to take sanitary control of all public buildings or places owned, leased or controlled by the State; and to make special investigation of causes of mortality and effects of localities, employments, conditions, and circumstances on the public health, and of the preparation and sale of drugs and food and the adulteration of these. It is required to examine and is given power to prevent the pollution of sources of public and domestic water and ice supply; it is authorized to prepare or purchase and distribute at cost anti-toxins, vaccines, and other approved serums and lymphs; it has the duty of maintaining a Bureau of Vital Statistics where shall be collected and recorded data regarding all births, marriages, and deaths within the State, together with statistics of the number of cases of communicable diseases, and such further comparative statistics and information as may be of value to scientists, the medical profession and the general public who aid in the maintenance of good health conditions. It has authority to abate public nuisances; it is granted general power of inspection, examination, quarantine and disinfection of persons, places, and things within the State and may appoint inspectors and vest them with like powers.

Bureau of Child Hygiene, Lachman Bldg., San Francisco. Is engaged chiefly in making demonstrations of the best methods of giving physical examinations for the discovery of correctable defects. Conducts baby conferences and clinics in the various communities throughout the State.

Bureau of Communicable Diseases, University of California Campus, Berkeley. Keeps complete records and makes tabulations of all reports of communicable diseases received by the health officers and submitted by them to the Bureau. Malaria and Hookworm Division conducts demonstrations of methods to be used in control of the mosquito and of malaria, and otherwise gives advice and assistance wherever possible, especially in the malarial districts of the State. This Division also makes examinations for hookworm and other intestinal parasites.

Divisions of Epidemiology, Morbidity, and Parasitology are equipped for making epidemiological investigations into any outbreaks of communicable diseases that may appear in any part of the State. Diagnostic Laboratory, in the Pacific Finance Bldg., Los Angeles, provides free laboratory service for all physicians in California. Makes bacteriological examinations of water supplies. Laboratory of Communicable Diseases, University of California Campus, Berkeley, makes examinations for the bubonic plague, and Rocky Mountain spotted fever, and performs virulence and Wasserman reaction tests. Both laboratories perform routine examinations for rabies, diphtheria, malaria, and tuberculosis, and make Widal tests. Manufactures Pasteur virus and administers anti-rabic treatment free of charge to any resident of the State who can not pay for private treatment. This treatment is given at the central laboratory in Berkeley, at the branch laboratory in the Pacific Finance Bldg., Los Angeles, and at Capitol Natl. Bank Bldg., Sacramento. Furnishes virus to certain authorized representatives of the laboratory for administration in other places.

Bureau of Foods and Drugs, Food and Drug Laboratory, University of California Campus, Berkeley. Makes routine chemical and bacteriological examinations of foods and drugs. Keeps a staff of inspectors constantly in the field to inspect grocery stores, meat markets, dairies, drug stores, canneries, and all other food producing or food handling establishments.

Bureau of Registration of Nurses, Lachman Bldg., San Francisco. Issues certificates as registered nurses for graduates of approved nurse-training schools which comply with the regulations under the State law. Inspects training schools for nurses and assists in standardizing courses of study given in these schools. Requests for information concerning registration under this Bureau should be addressed to the Director.

Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, University of California Campus, Berkeley. Handles technical problems relating to water supply and disposal of sewage. Makes bacteriological examinations of water supplies.

Bureau of Social Hygiene, Lachman Bldg., San Francisco. Is engaged in the control of venereal diseases. Distributes salvarsan products free of charge to approved clinics which administer them to persons suffering from syphilis who are unable to pay for treatment. Social Service Division brings new patients into the clinics and follows up cases in order to determine if treatment is continued and to prevent reinfections if possible.

Bureau of Tuberculosis, Sacramento. Inspects all institutions caring for tubercular patients. Administers the law giving to county hospitals which maintain the required standard a subsidy of $3 a week per patient. Distributes free of charge literature on tuberculosis.

Bureau of Vital Statistics, Forum Bldg., Sacramento. Receives all birth, death, and marriage certificates for filing and indexing; makes statistical tabulations. Through the State Registrar issues certified copies of certificates.

State Hygienic Laboratory, Berkeley. For the use of the State Board of Health for bacteriological and chemical analysis.

State Board of Medical Examiners, Flood Bldg., San Francisco. Has supervision over all those who practise any system of the healing art in the State of California; gives examinations and grants certificates to such persons; enforces the provisions of the Medical Practise Act; provides for revocation of licenses. Issues certificates to midwives upon presentation of evidence of good moral character, and completion of a one-year course of instruction in anatomy, physiology, obstetrics, hygiene, and sanitation, or upon presentation of a diploma from a recognized reputable hospital.

District Health Officers. These two officers, located one at Los Angeles and the other at Sacramento, are available at all times for advising and assisting local health officers or any community that may have a special problem for solution.

STONE HOUSE, Bothin, Marin Co. (P. C. Manor). Office for application, Miss Elizabeth Ashe, 1736 Stockton St., San Francisco. Summer convalescent Home for professional and business women. U. S. VETERANS' BUREAU, Headquarters Twelfth District, (California, Nevada, and Arizona), Lincoln Bldg., 883 Market St., San Francisco. Created by Act of Congress, effective August 9, 1921. Under the direction of a District Manager who is responsible to the Director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C.

The Claims Division of the Bureau handles matters relating to government insurance or compensation to any member of the U. S. military or naval forces for disabilities incurred, increased, or aggravated while in service since April 7, 1917.

The Medical Service Division supervises and directs the operation of all hospitals caring for beneficiaries of the Bureau and provides care for such cases as are entitled to treatment outside the hospitals.

The Rehabilitation Division provides for the vocational training of the beneficiaries of the Bureau who are in need of training to overcome handicaps due to service disabilities. It utilizes existing technical schools, trade and commercial schools, educational institutions, and also shops and factories where "training on the job" may be had. It maintains a limited number of training centers of its own for trainees whose physical or mental condition makes assimilation in existing educational institutions impractical or impossible. In such centers, night school and pre-vocational training is offered. It also arranges for the training to be given directly in the trades and industries. The Bureau allows the disabled man a sufficient sum for his maintenance and support while undergoing training, and, if he has dependents, an allowance for their support during his training period. When the man has been rehabilitated, the Bureau endeavors to secure employment for him in the particular line of endeavor for which he has been trained.

Sub-District Offices. The District is divided into sub-districts in charge of sub-district managers who have authority to perform the functions in connection with rehabilitation, hospitalization, or compensation after the eligibility or rating of beneficiaries has been established by the District Office or Central Office. Sub-District Offices are located at the following places in California: Fresno, 632 Blackstone Ave.; Los Angeles, 322 Pacific-Mutual Bldg.; Sacramento, Merchants Natl. Bank Bldg.; San Diego, 512 Spreckels Bldg.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Berkeley; Southern Branch, Los Angeles. Offers instruction in the Colleges of Letters and Science, Commerce, Agriculture, Mechanics, Mining, Civil Engineering, Chemistry, Dentistry, and Pharmacy, and the Schools of Architecture, Education, Jurisprudence, Medicine, and Public Health. It also offers a curriculum for nurses. The instruction in all departments is open to all qualified persons without distinction of sex. In the Academic Colleges the tuition is $75 for each half year to non-residents, and is free to residents of the State. All students pay $25 each half year for incidental expenses. Scholarships awarding free or partly free education are available; for further information address Registrar. Supported by State funds and private gifts. The library and a few of the schools and colleges offering courses of special interest to social service are described below.

Library. For reference purposes. Primarily for students but offering to all the privileges of the reading rooms and reference facilities for legitimate purposes. Following the system of inter-library loans, will lend unusual books not easily assessible elsewhere to other libraries in the State for the use of persons engaged in teaching, writing, or scientific research.

College of Agriculture offers six groups of subjects: Agricultural Science, Agronomy, Animal Industry, Forestry, Horticulture, and Landscape Gardening. Maintains a farm at Davis where students (of the college) spend certain semesters of their course. Cooperates with the Department of Agriculture, U. S., States Relations Service (q.v.). Extension Department makes investigations through its research staff; examines sites for land settlement; makes farm demonstrations throughout the State; conducts a citrus fruit experiment station at Riverside; organizes agricultural clubs for boys.

County Farm Advisers maintain headquarters at the county seats of the counties in which they are located. They extend the knowledge which agricultural colleges and experiment stations have gained through research work of investigators and from other sources. They cooperate with the farm bureau federation of the county in which they are located; attend monthly meetings of the various farm bureau centers (for description of the federations and centers see California Farm Bureau Federation); upon request they make farm visits to help solve specific problems; arrange with the farmers of their respective counties for demonstrations. Advisers include county agricultural agents who deal with farm problems and home demonstration agents who deal with problems of the home. The service is not limited to purely agricultural matters, but covers farm and home sanitation and home economics as well. The Advisers are members of the faculty of the University of California; they are also Federal and State representatives, being under the U. S. Department of Agriculture (q.v.) and the College of Agriculture of the State University in cooperation.

Economics Department offers courses in family case work, housing, labor problems, social economics, and related subjects. Also gives a two-year graduate course of training for social service, with practice work in local agencies, and training in field study, reporting, and social research work.

School of Public Health offers three courses in public health: A, a four-year course for general students in public health; B, a two-year course for students holding a degree of Bachelor of Science from the College of Civil Engineering; C, a one and one-half years' course for students of medicine. Curriculum A offers, besides the regular academic studies, lectures and out-patient clinics in the University of California Hospital; work with the Social Service Department of the University of California Medical School, the San Francisco Health Department, and the California State Board of Health (q.v.); Out-Patient Department work and research on public health subjects. Curriculum B offers courses in bacteriology, hygiene, economics, and entomology besides a year's work in the medical school. Curriculum C offers courses in civil engineering, entomology, hygiene, and economics, and assignments with the San Francisco Health Department, the Social Service Department, the State Board of Health (q.v.), and field work in epidemiology research.

University Extension Department, Division Office, 140 Kearney St., San Francisco. Serves persons who seek training and information but who cannot attend the University. Offers class instruction wherever classes can be formed, or instruction by correspondence anywhere in California. Provides lectures, recitals, and motion pictures and other material for visual instruction. Serves communities through its Bureau of Information and Social Welfare. The work covers two fields of activity, Instruction and Public Service, and is carried on through six departments:

(1) Department of Class Instruction organizes and conducts classes in cities and towns wherever a sufficient number of people desire a given course.

Instruction is offered in a variety of subjects, information about which may be obtained from the Department office.

(2) Department of Correspondence Instruction offers instruction by mail in a great variety of subjects. Instruction may begin at any time.

(3) Department of Lectures provides lectures singly or in series for any committee, club, organization, or community in the State that will make the necessary arrangements.

(4) Department of Visual Instruction circulates stereopticon slides and motion-picture reels covering many phases of educational work. They are sent in rotation through the schools of the State and are studied in the public schools as part of the curriculum. They are made available to parents and citizens as a part of the public service of this Department.

(5) Department of Municipal Reference is a clearing house for inquiries concerning municipal government and administration. It is allied with the League of California Municipalities.

(6) Department of General Information undertakes to answer inquiries of whatever nature addressed to it, utilizing for this purpose the resources of the University.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION DEPARTMENT. See University of California.

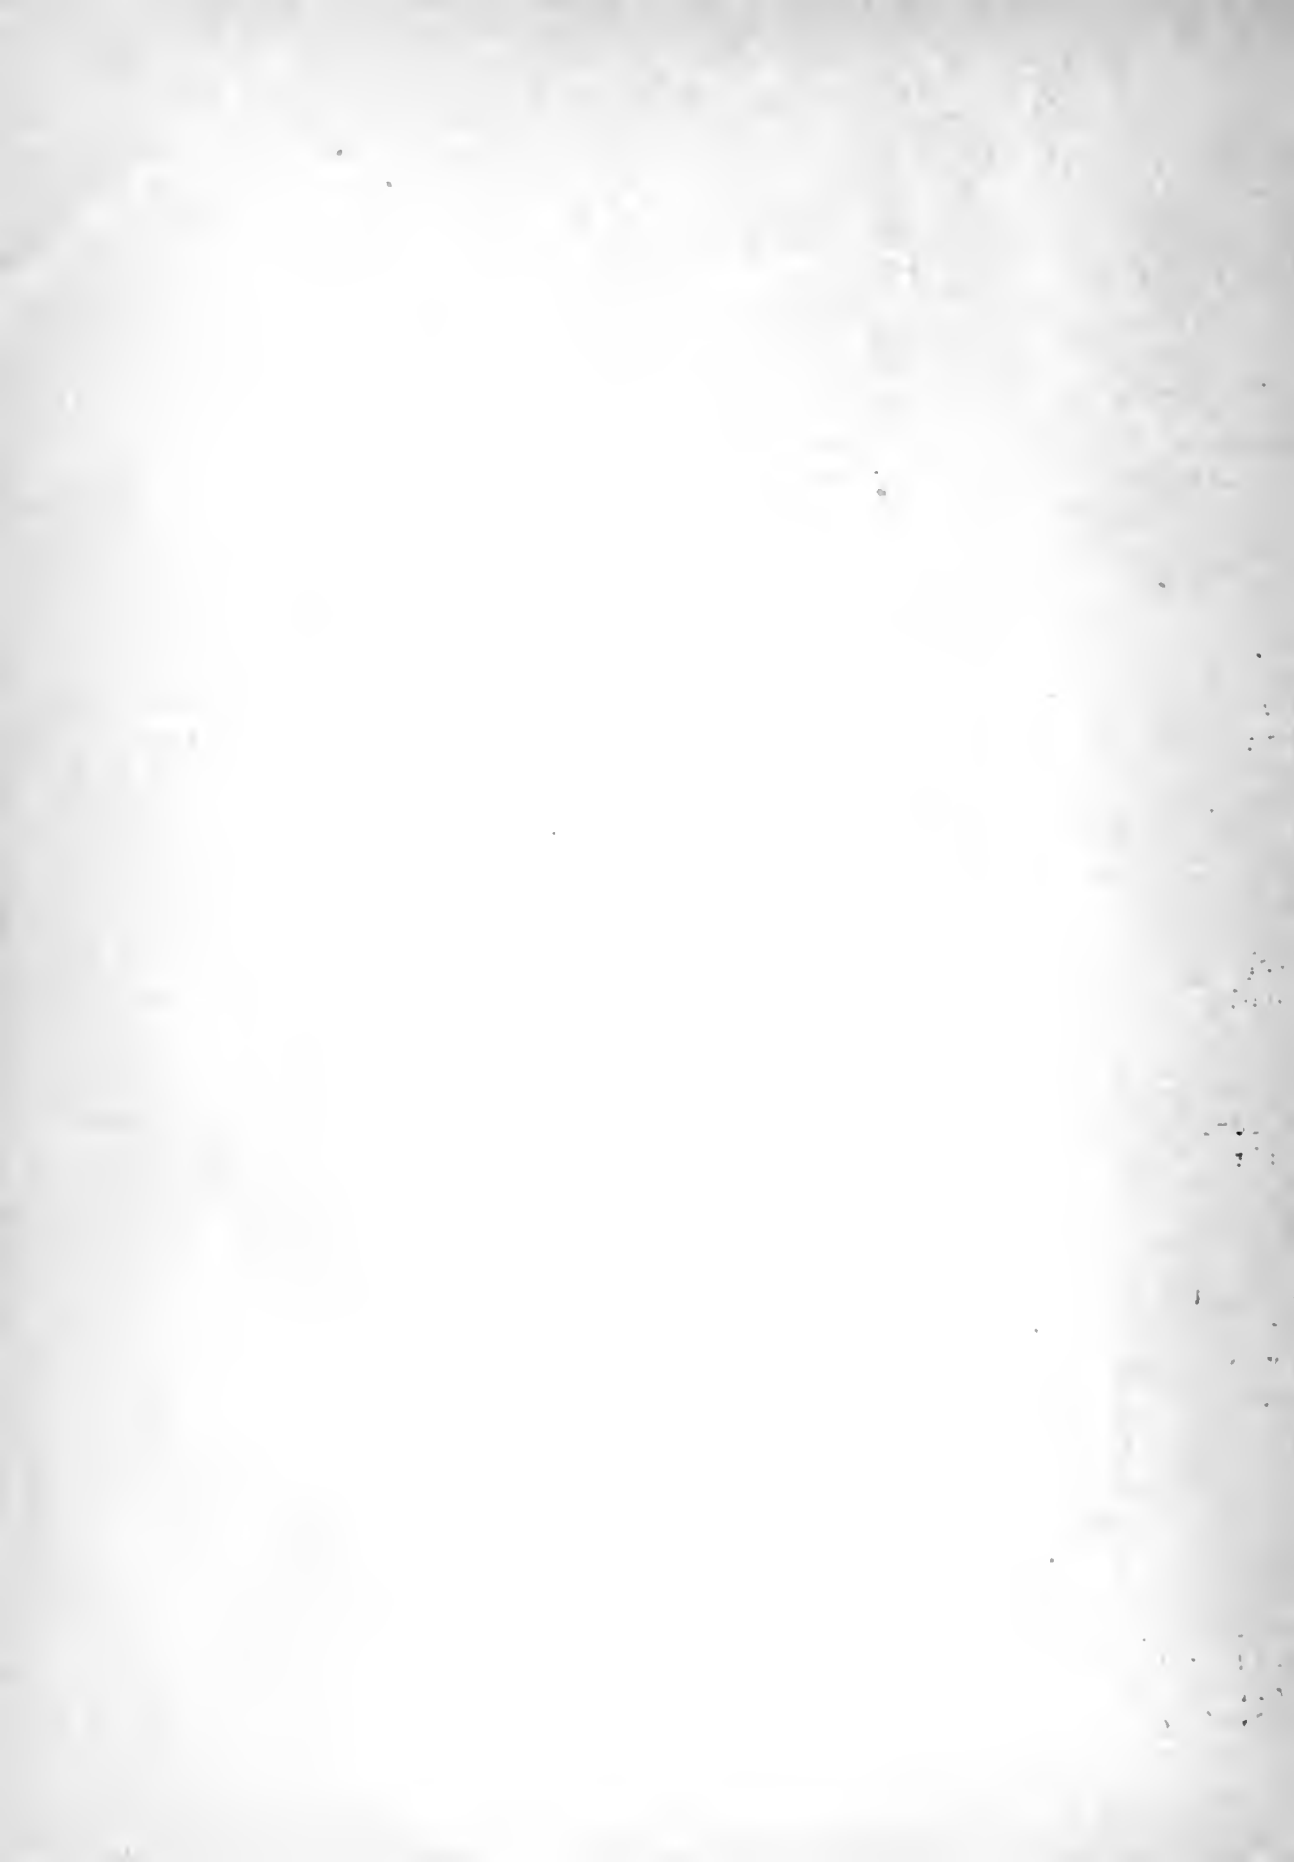

UNIVERSITY OF SANTA CLARA, Santa Clara. Provides scholarships furnishing free education to a limited number of students. For further information apply to the Registrar of the University.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, Los Angeles. Provides scholarships affording free or partly free education, for further information concerning which write the Registrar of the University.

VALLEJO BOYS' SCHOOL, Vallejo. In process of reorganization; license by State Board of Charities and Corrections (q.v.) pending. Has a 3-acre plot available for agriculture. Upon application of parents or upon juvenile court commitment admits destitute boys for care and training. Boys attend public school. Parents pay a moderate charge. Under undenominational auspices.

VETERANS' BUREAU. See U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

VETERANS' HOME, Napa Co. A Home established by law for aged, indigent or disabled veterans of all wars, who have resided in California for six months immediately preceding application and who are not otherwise provided for by law. Applicants must submit proof of name, age, service, and disability. Supported by State funds.

VETERANS' WELFARE BOARD, Exec. Secy., State Capitol, Sacramento. Established by legislature. Composed of five members appointed by the Governor, four of whom shall be ex-service men. Board is given authority to acquire acreage in the State for the purpose of subdividing, cultivating, and otherwise improving it; to sell at cost to an ex-service man an allotment of such lands, at 5 per cent interest, complete payment to be made within 20 years; to lend to ex-service men sums not to exceed $3,000, at 5 per cent interest, for the purchase of stock and equipment, complete payment to be made within 40 years; to lend sums not to exceed $5,000, to an applicant at 5 per cent interest, for the purchase of a home, upon the payment of 5 per cent down, complete payment to be made within 40 years; to lend sums not to exceed $7,500, at 5 per cent interest for the purchase of a tract of farm land in any community, upon the payment of 10 per cent down, complete payment to be made within 40 years. Provision is made for the education of able-bodied ex-service men whose schooling was interrupted by service, such education not to extend over a period of more than two years nor to cost over $1,000 for any applicant; provision is also made for the vocational training of wives, dependent parents, children, brothers or sisters of men killed in action or permanently disabled. Other State legislation grants credit of five points to ex-service men or their widows in civil service examinations, and preference to ex-service men over all non-service men passing the examination; grants to ex-service men tax exemption on property assessed up to $1,000, license tax exemption for the vending of goods and exemption from fee for affidavits for compensation and other claims before any public officer. County Boards of Supervisors (q.v.) are empowered to acquire lands or buildings for institutions, for memorials or for meeting places for veterans.

WHITTIER STATE SCHOOL, Whittier, Los Angeles County. A State school for boys; established by law. Conducted on the cottage plan. Receives delinquent boys between 8 and 16 years of age, committed by the juvenile court. It is also authorized by recent legislation to receive wards of the court on probation, or may receive any suitable boy on his request or that of his parents or guardian without the necessity of court action. Aims to fit boys for return to society by applying the results of scientific investigation, by education and vocational training, and by supervised recreation. Maintains the California Bureau of Juvenile Research, with headquarters at Whittier State School and laboratories in other State schools and institutions. The results of its investigations are available for the practical purposes of the School, for other institutions, and for social workers generally. Accredited graduates and students of colleges and universities receive training in scientific methods and social research work at the Bureau. The School maintains a modern hospital. Educational work is conducted under the direction of a member of the Southern Branch of the University of California (q.v.). Teachers are all certificated normal school graduates. Vocational instruction is given in mechanical trades, including carpentry, auto repair and maintenance, plumbing, blacksmithing, painting, printing and bindery work, shoemaking, tailoring, cooking, baking, and music. Training is also given in practical agriculture, which includes general farming, care of live stock, orchard culture, vegetable raising, and landscape gardening. Instructors are men of practical experience, some of whom hold special State teaching certificates. Boys are grouped into family units, each of which occupies a cottage under the direction of a house father and a house mother. The School is a division of the State Department of Institutions (q.v.), and has its advisory board of trustees. A resident superintendent and staff of trained workers are in direct charge. Supported by State funds. Capacity 280.
